

Sponsorship options ISGSR 2022

The 8th International Symposium on Geotechnical Safety and Risk (ISGSR 2022) will be hosted by The Priority Research Centre for Geotechnical Science and Engineering, The University of Newcastle, Australia and will be held in Newcastle over 3 days in December 2022. The theme of ISGSR 2022 is “Geotechnical Risk: Big-data, Machine Learning and Climate Change” and will feature the latest research advances and engineering-practice innovations with a focus on the use of probabilistic and risk methodologies in geotechnical engineering. The conference will include a wide range of knowledge-enhancing technical sessions, short courses, workshops and software demonstrations.

We anticipate the attendance of around 200 delegates. Sponsorship of ISGSR 2022 offers your organisation exposure to the world’s leading professionals in geotechnical safety and risk. These sponsorship options suit a range of budgets and we would be happy to discuss their design to fit your requirements.

About the conference

The conference will include many opportunities to meet and discuss with colleagues from all around the world, via the main technical program and the range of social events, including a welcome reception and gala dinner. The programme will also include sessions for engineers, reliability researchers and design code developers.

The conference will be held in the University of Newcastle's landmark education precinct in the heart of Newcastle's CBD. Newcastle is situated 160km north of Sydney on the mid north coast is located within the heart of the Hunter Region, New South Wales. The city boasts beautiful beaches, world-class wineries in the Hunter Valley, and a vibrant restaurant and café culture. The city is easily accessible from the Sydney international airport via public transport.
